

Assignment 5

City & Weather

The Application City & Weather has a login page which asks the user to login through his/her Google credentials, on successful login, it goes to the page where the user can enter city name along with the State code. The output will be present weather condition at the city.

Step 1:

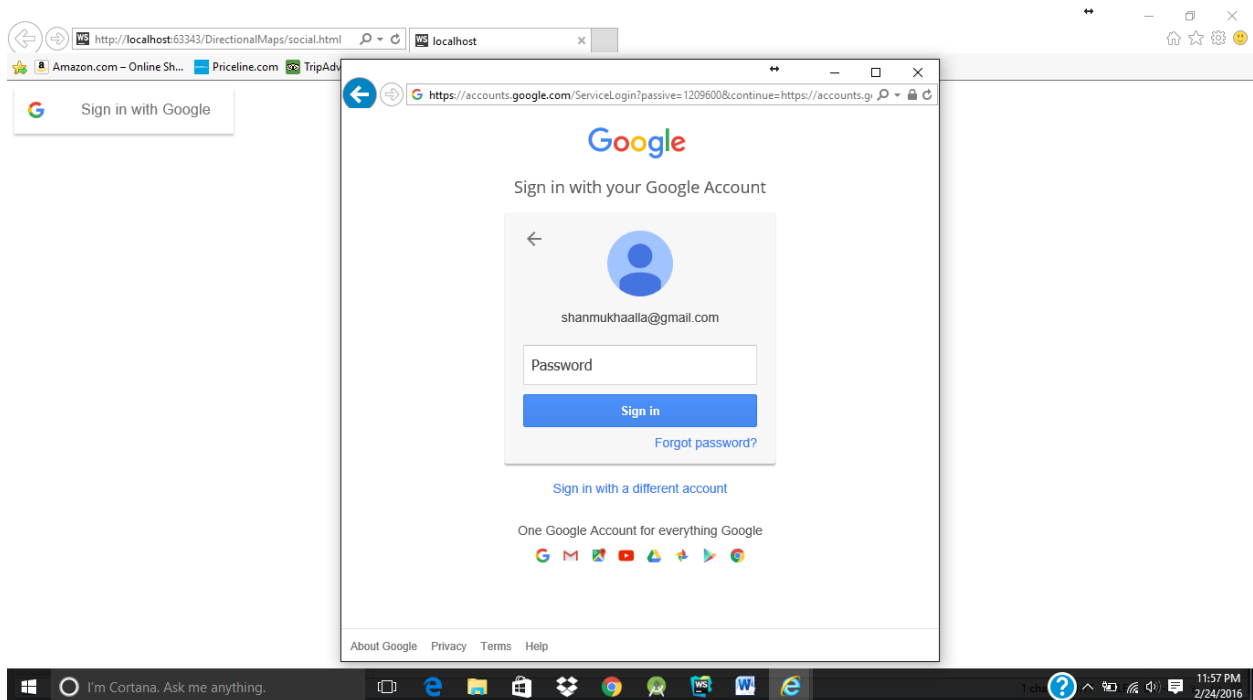

When the user opens the application, he/she is asked to enter Google credentials as shown below.

Sign in with Google

Step 2:

When he/she clicks on the button, the following screen appears. Now, the user is required to enter his google id and password as shown in the below image.

Step 3:

Upon successful Login, the user is routed to home page where it will ask to enter city name along with the state code. Then the output will be the present weather details of that city as shown in the below image.

